County Debts Are Funded

LONG TIME ISSUE IS OFFERED

Notes Bearing High Interest Will be Paid Off

RELIC OF THE WORLD WAR

High Operation Costs Blame for Present Situation

Allen's indebtedness for operation expenses which has been piling up since the close of the World war, is to be paid off by a bond issue, county commissioners announced Friday.

The issue, amounting to $116,500, bearing 6 per cent interest, will be offered for sale to bond buyers on October 29, when bids will be received by the commissioners. The bonds must bring par or better, according to terms of sale.

Commissioners voted to issue the bonds June 1, and offered them to the county sinking fund, and the state industrial commission. Neither body were in position to absorb the issue.

INCOME TOO SMALL
Following the failure of the county to receive enough money from the budget commission to satisfy a portion of the debt, commissioners determined to offer the bonds for sale.

Proposals for buying the issue will be received from bidders in sealed form. Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check for $500.

COLUMBUS—(United Press) — Battle flags of Ohio's military organizations in the world war will be formally turned over to the state today to be placed in cases in the rotunda of the state house among the banners borne by Ohio regiments in the Civil war.

Following a parade in which the battle flags will be borne by the color sergeants or enlisted men of the original organizations to which the flags belonged, General J. H. McRae, commander of the fifth army corps area will present the banners on behalf of the United States to Governor Vic Donahey, who will receive them on behalf of the state.

ACTION TO OUST POOR BEGUN

Removal from Utilities Commission Sought by Crabbe

COLUMBUS—(Associated Press) — Quo warranto proceedings to oust George T. Poor, Cincinnati, as a member of the state public utilities commission, were filed today in the supreme court by Attorney General Crabbe.

The action was taken, Crabbe pointed out, at the request of Governor Donahey. Alleged ownership of stock in the Cities Service Co. by Poor was cited in the suit as making the latter legally unfit to serve on the commission.

WARD FREED ON 32ND BIRTHDAY

Murder Trial's End Brings Almost Unparalleled Scene

WOMEN HUG ACQUITTED MAN

Secret of the Hackmail Plot is Never Bared

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y.—(Associated Press) — Walter S. Ward, acquitted yesterday of the charge of murdering Clarence Peters, former sailor, was at home with his wife and children today, a free man. A jury had found him not guilty of the sinister charge that has hung over his head for 16 months. The verdict resembled an anniversary gift, for yesterday was Ward's thirty-second birthday.

A scene almost without parallel was enacted in the court room when the verdict was announced. The throng of spectators rose to its feet, pushed and shoved its way over chairs, benches and the railing to Ward's side. Most of the jubilant ones were women and many of them were members of the fashionable colony of Westchester.

They grasped Ward's hand, they threw their arms about his neck and some of them tried to kiss him.

VOTE MAY SETTLE OKLAHOMA ROW

Supreme Court to Pass on Special Election Question

OKLAHOMA CITY — (Associated Press) — The fate of the proposed initiative bill which would permit the lower house of the state legislature to convene without call from the governor rests with the Oklahoma supreme court, with possibility of the proposed measure going on the ballot for a special election October 2, depending upon action by the dominant body today.

Upon the court's decision hinges a test of strength at the polls of the administration of Governor J. C. Walton, who has placed the entire state under martial law in his declared war on masked floggings and the Ku Klux Klan.

MANY HOUSES WRECKED AND TOWNS ARE FLOODED

Portions of Iowa and Nebraska Hard Hit by Storm and Cloudbursts — Horrors Increased When Fire Breaks Out — Rail Traffic Tied Up

OMAHA, Neb. — (Associated Press) — Seventeen known dead, three missing, more than a dozen seriously injured and property damage estimated at more than half a million dollars, was the toll of a tornado and cloudbursts which visited western Iowa and eastern Nebraska last night.

At Council Bluffs, Iowa, where a tornado struck shortly after 9 p. m., five persons are known to be dead, three missing and five seriously injured, and property damage is estimated at more than $250,000.

Eight mourners were drowned at Louisville, Nebraska, when the house where the body of Mr. Mary McHaver lay, was washed into Mill Creek, which had become a raging torrent after a cloudburst.

Dr. A. A. Ward, a physician of Marquette, Neb., on his way to make a professional call, was killed when, blinded by rain and hail, his car skidded and turned over.

The three persons reported missing at Council Bluffs are believed to have been washed into Indian Creek, which is out of its bounds from heavy rains the past few days.

CRUSHED UNDER TREE
Mrs. Laura Kelster and her three children were killed at Council Bluffs as they ran from their home, a large tree crushing them. Their bodies were found huddled together.

In Council Bluffs twelve houses in a row were jammed by tornado, and many roads for any possibility.

SHANK IS ARRAIGNED IN OTTAWA COURT

DENIES CHARGES OF MURDER

Escorted Thru Silent Halls to Judge Eastman

TRIAL IN EARLY OCTOBER

Will be Kept in Putnam-co Jail for Conferences

Charles Shank, 40, farm hand, alleged slayer of three members of the William Tenwalde family, on September 1, was arraigned in court Saturday and pleaded not guilty to charges contained in three indictments charging first degree murder, returned by the recent Putnam-co grand jury.

Shank was arraigned at 2 p. m. The courthouse, which closes at noon on Saturday, was deserted and there were but a few employees there to witness the plea of Shank.

He was brought to the court room from the county jail, the matter of making the plea took but a few minutes and Shank was returned to the county jail, to await trial next month.

Hundreds of people are expected to crowd the court room, when the trial of Shank starts in October.

IN CONTROVERSY

Shank, on September 1, went to the Tenwalde farm home and engaged in a controversy with members of the family. His main object there, according to testimony, was to take Miss Olivia Tenwalde, unmarried mother of his sixteen-months-old child, to the meeting of the Putnam-co pioneer association at Kulida.

A previous arrangement had been made whereby Lawrence Tenwalde, 23, cousin of the girl, and farm hand for the Tenwalde family, was to accompany the girl.

In a moment of passion and jealousy, it is alleged, Shank shot the girl. Her mother and her cousin, Lawrence met the same fate.

HELD AT OTTAWA

For twelve days he was at liberty in the woods, cornfields and swamps of the western part of the county. He gave himself up, and was arrested on September 13 and spirited to Toledo. He remained there until Saturday, September 15, when he was returned to the Putnam-co jail, where he since has remained. Shank will remain in the Putnam-co jail so as to be near his attorneys, it is said.

John T. DeFord and George Fritz, Ottawa, attorneys, will defend Shank at the trial, having been appointed Thursday by the court. They will be paid for their services from county funds.

Prosecuting Attorney Julius S. Ogan will be assisted by Benjamin A. Unverforth, of Ottawa, former prosecuting attorney of Putnam-co. He, too, was appointed by the court. Judge E. R. Eastman, of Ottawa, who presided at the arraignment Saturday, will sit in the trial of the case.

HARDING MEMORIAL BODY TO BE INCORPORATED

WASHINGTON — Articles of incorporation for the Harding Memorial Association organized by close friends and associates of the late president for the purpose of erecting a memorial to him, soon will be filed in Ohio.

The incorporators will include President Coolidge, members of the cabinet, Governor Cressinger of the Federal Reserve board, "Brigadier General C. E. Sawyer, White House physician, and a number of others. Under the Ohio law a majority of the incorporators must be residents of the state and for that reason the articles of incorporation will bear the signatures of a number of Ohioans. The form of the memorial still is indefinite as well as the method to be used in raising funds for its erection. It is likely, however, that it will be erected in Marion, the home of the late president.

GOVERNMENT CHANGES INCOME TAX FORMS

Business men whose incomes from their business are less than $5,000 per year will hereafter have to file federal income tax returns on a new form, according to instructions received Saturday by J. C. Marsh, deputy collector of internal revenue for this district.

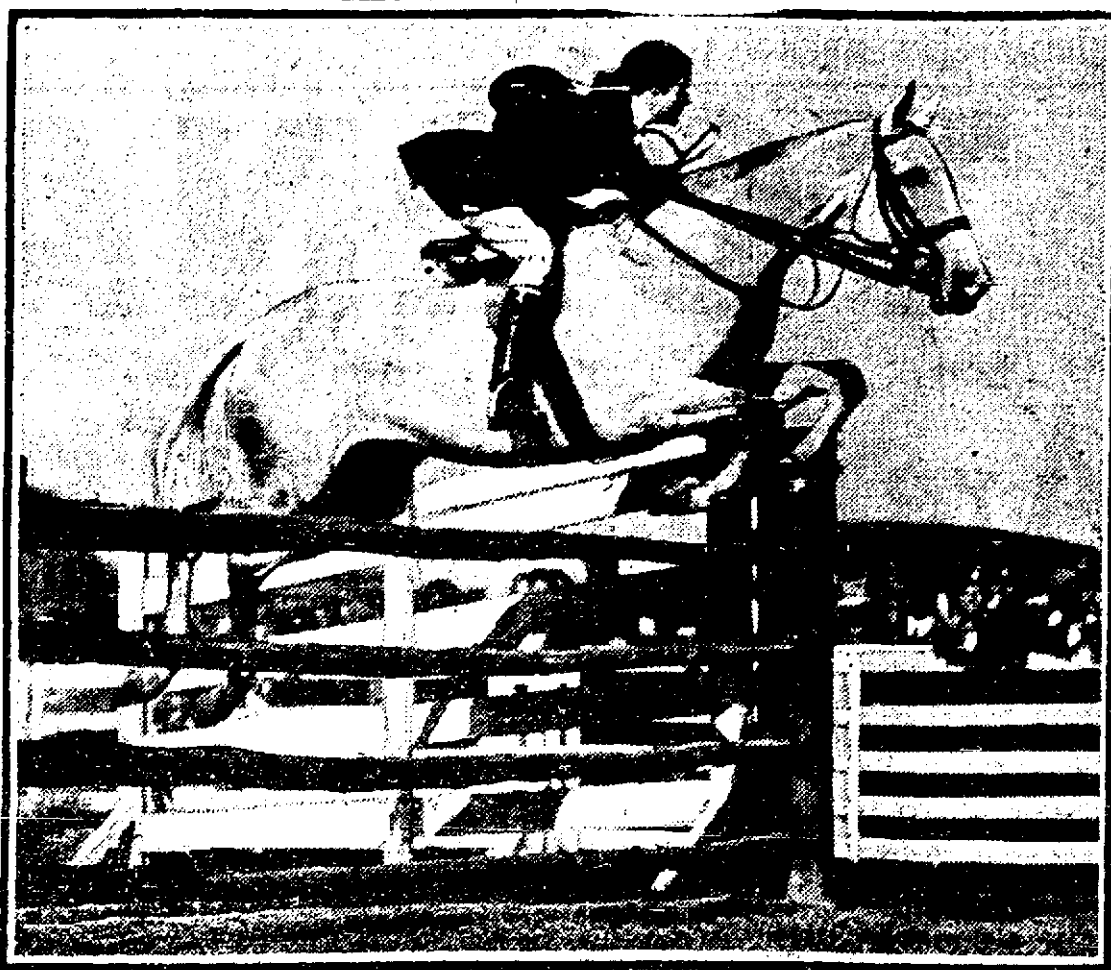

Heretofore merchants with a business income of less than $5,000 have used the same return sheet forms that the man or woman whose salary or wage is less than $5,000 but under this new ruling the small business man will use a more complicated form. The new ruling is effective for the 1923 tax on which returns will be made in 1924.

JAPANESE CITIES AGAIN SHAKEN BY EARTHQUAKE

YOKOHAMA—Osaka and Kobe, leading cities of Japan, which escaped destruction in the quakes of September 1, were shaken today by tremors of moderate intensity. The new shocks caused no damage and were not felt in other cities.

ACTUAL BANK STATEMENT NEW YORK—The actual condition of clearing house banks and trust companies for the week shows an excess in reserve of $23,150,560. This is a reserve increase of $20,505,420.

VICTORY WON BY GOV. WALTON

Court Ruling Bars Legislative Call from Ballot

BULLETIN

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla.—(United Press)—Governor Walton today won his legal fight to prevent Oklahoma from voting on an initiative bill providing the state legislature can convene itself when the supreme court refused to allow this measure on the special election ballots next Tuesday.

The court instructed election officials to proceed with the election to decide other matters but to strike off the proposed measure on whether the legislature could assemble without call of the governor.

FARMER IS FOUND DEAD IN FIELD

St. Marys Man Dies of Heart Trouble While Working

August Dicke, 69, a farmer living on N. Ash-st., St. Marys, was found dead in a corn field on the Albert Smith farm, near the west municipal line of St. Marys early Saturday by two men walking thru the field. Dicke's body was reclining in a standing position against some corn shocks.

Examination showed that Dicke had died of heart disease while probably on his way from the field to his home.

Dicke had been employed by Smith to cut some corn. Before leaving the field Smith told Dicke that he would come for him in the evening and take him home, but Dicke said he would walk home.

It is believed that Dicke was stricken just as he was about to start on his way home and that he leaned against some corn shocks for support in which position he died.

Dicke, who is a widower, belonged to a prominent family in St. Marys. He is survived by two sons and two daughters.

CITY RECEIVES MONEY FOR STREET BONDS SOLD

City Auditor C. H. Churchill Saturday received from Prudden & Co., bond buyers, the full amount of the new street improvement notes and accrued interest at 6 per cent, the total amount being $31,524.55.

These are notes which the city issued to cover the cost of improving four streets as follows: Eureka-st., McDonel to Nye-sts., $2,055; High-st., Cole to Woodlawn-av., $15,260; Market-st., Shawnee to Dewey-av., $12,300; and Woodlawn-av., High-st. to Allenwood-av., $1,755.

Accrued interest for the 30-day period from September 1 at 6 per cent amounted to $156.85, which the bond buyers paid the city along with the par value of the notes.

Invention's Aim Is Abolition Of Battleship Roll

CHATHAM, England.—(Associated Press)—Important expedients are being made here with a gyroscopic instrument designed to abolish the rolling of warships. The apparatus, for which great things are claimed by the inventor, has been fitted to a ship in the Chatham dockyard, and a novel method has been employed during the preliminary test.

Platforms have been constructed enabling parties of men to run on and off the ship, which lies moored in one of the basins. In this way artificial rolling is set up for, as every nautical man knows a vessel is surprisingly sensitive to the movement of a number of people from one side to the other.

Thoro tests are to be made with the gyroscopic aid. It is generally agreed that if the invention proves a success it will have an almost revolutionary effect on naval warfare, because one of the greatest difficulties which the naval gunner has to encounter at present is the continual rolling of the ship.

By the introduction of large big keels and other improvements in design, naval architects have been able to reduce the rolling very considerably during the last few years, but many difficulties still present themselves.

The modern battleship is so enormously heavy that, once she starts rolling, a long time elapses before she recovers her normal balance.

QUARTERLY WATER REPORT SHOWS REVENUE INCREASE

Reports of the water department for the quarter and month ending Saturday show a revenue increase of $2,533.35 over the report for the same period one year ago. The report was filed with City Auditor C. H. Churchill by W. E. Booth of the water department.

His figures show an increase of $49,460 for the entire quarter, the figures being $11,548.57 for the quarter this year compared with $10,597.97 for the quarter ending September 30, 1922.

Figures for September show an increase revenue of $1,358.60 the totals being $7,991.85 for September this year compared with $6,633.25 for September one year ago. Other figures are as follows:

Sale of water $145.00 and $16.70, in 1922.

Service fittings, $39.00 in 1922 and $483.10 in 1923.

Meter sales, $150 in 1922 and $43 in 1923.

Repair of meters, $2.50 in 1922 and $27.90 in 1923.

Sale of junk, $132.40 in 1922 and nothing in 1923.

Miscellaneous, $137.86 in 1922 and $767.00 in 1923.

FORD PROTESTS AGAINST BOARD'S RULING ON CARS

WASHINGTON — Henry Ford filed a petition with the interstate commerce commission today asking reconsideration of its July decision in the assigned car case, which, he contended, would have "a widespread effect upon the price" of Ford cars. The general result of the decision against which Ford complains was to refuse to coal mines and utilities owning their coal cars the right to control those cars in the shipment of fuel.

The Ford petition said that two factories owned by the Ford Motor Co., used more than 3,000 tons of coal a day and that in addition to acquiring coal mines at various places the Ford interests also had purchased $1,807,000 worth of steel coal cars. If the commission's decision stands, the petition concluded, there will be a serious loss to the company.

A number of utilities companies, railroads and others also have petitioned for a rehearing.

TAX REFERENDUM TO GO ON BALLOT

Action Not to be Delayed Further, Secretary Brown Says

COLUMBUS — (Associated Press)

—Secretary of State Thad H. Brown announced today that the Taft referendum will be placed on the ballot without further ado, the supreme court having decided that the law is subject to referendum.

In view of the fact that fewer than six weeks remain before the election, the referendum will go on the ballot even though the petitions have not been verified. The period during which verification would have been accomplished elapsed before the court decided the case in point and proponents of the referendum aver that this prevents any steps looking to the determination of the sufficiency of the petitions.

INJUNCTION DISSOLVED

The secretary of state also announced today that the Franklin common pleas court had dissolved the temporary injunction restraining him from sending out the petitions to the country boards of elections. As he will not return the petitions to the counties for verification, the necessity of further proceedings under the injunction suit brought by Walter Stewart of Toledo, in the local common pleas court is obviated. The injunction was dissolved on the secretary of state's own motion.

A motion will be filed Monday, Brown indicated, asking that the injunction restraining him from receiving the Albaugh referendum petitions, which are now in the hands of the boards of elections and must be returned to him after having been verified, be dissolved in order to place the Albaugh referendum on the ballot.

The secretary of state today wired Representative Taft at Cincinnati and Representative Albaugh at Troy to send in immediately the arguments in support of their respective laws, to be used in the publicity pamphlets that are to be sent to the voters. All other arguments are in.

RUMORS OF UNION DEPOT ARE HEARD IN DELPHOS

DELPHOS — Local agents of railroad companies deny knowledge of rumors that a union depot is planned here. The rumors have been current since sale of the Hessian elevator, E. First-st., located on land belonging to the A. C. & Y.

It is said the proposed depot will occupy this site, giving access to the Pennsylvania, T. St. L. & W. and the A. C. & Y. railroads.

The plan would be similar to one carried out in Bluffton recently. Although the Pennsylvania has contemplated erection of a new freight house since 1915, no building program is in immediate prospect, according to Agent John Knell.

Razing of the old Hessian elevator adds to the rumors. It has been understood that the A. C. & Y. will at least erect a new station there.

DEPUTY FIRE MARSHALL ISSUES DELPHOS ORDERS

DELPHOS — N. W. Basinger, Bluffton deputy fire marshal, ordered removal of several old buildings here Thursday. One of them is located along the banks of the Miami & Erie canal. The orders will be enforced, according to Fire Chief Frank Grothouse.

MOTORIST CITED

J. W. Haruff, 211 S. Union-st., charged with operating a taxi with a dealer's license, is to be arraigned in criminal court Monday. He was cited Friday night but no action was taken as police are looking up the state law covering his alleged offense.

AUTO BURNS

An automobile owned by Roy Clemens, 319 N. Central-av., was slightly damaged by fire shortly before noon Saturday, according to firemen who arrived as the blaze was extinguished. Defective wiring is said to have caused the fire.

MERCHANTS TALK CREDITS

More Than 1,500 Delinquent Accounts in Local Business Houses

COMMERCE BUREAU AIDING

Assists Dealers Weed Out Unprofitable Customers

Over 1,500 names of delinquent charge accounts held on the books of Lima merchants were discussed at the September meeting of the credit bureau of the board of commerce held Friday afternoon at the board rooms. This means, according to Managing Secretary Morton, that some 1,500 people who have been given goods on credit have absolutely failed to pay their bills.

During the month the credit bureau has had over 900 calls from Lima merchants relative to the credit standing of customers who sought credit at the local stores, the report brought out. Local merchants likewise sent over 2,000 reports to the bureau as to the promptness with which customers having credit, paid their bills.

During September the bureau sent out 30 letters to other credit bureaus seeking information about Lima people asking credit in other cities while at the same time 38 inquiries were sent from the Lima bureau to other bureaus asking for credit data about outsiders seeking credit at local business places.

ADVERTISING SERIES

Coincident with the September meeting Secretary Morton of the Board of Commerce begins a series of educational advertisements on the merchants' side of the credit game. In discussing the fact that 1,500 bad or delinquent charge accounts were found, Morton said that buyers do not seem to realize that the retail merchant prices his goods to sell for cash. "When the merchant extends credit to a customer he does it because he believes that the character of that customer is such that he or she will promptly pay the bill when it is due," said Morton.

"He does not charge for the credit but extends it as an accommodation to his customers. If the customer lacks the character to pay the bills, the merchant is out the carrying cost of his charge account meet his bills to the wholesaler and jobber, even if he had to borrow the money, while his customer has failed to come across. This leaves the merchant, in the vernacular of the street, 'holding the bag.'"

AMERICAN MONEY HIDDEN AWAY

French Hoarding Currency Obtained During War

PARIS — (Associated Press) — All over France men and women for years have been hoarding American currency. It became available in large quantities with the coming of American soldiers during the war and the French were quick to see its value. Today people are wondering how many dollars are concealed in the "woolen socks" of the republic.

The estimates run from $1,000,000 to $5,000,000. Recently a Frenchman living in Chaumont, who kept a candy store during the war, disclosed to a friend a strongbox containing over $12,500 in American bills of various denominations, which he said he would sell when the franc reached 20 for one dollar. "There are a good many men in this town alone who have more than I," this man declared.

The exact amount of American currency left in France by American soldiers and officers will probably never be known, but many believe that if a thorough canvass of Brest, Saint Nazaire, Bordeaux, Le Mans, Tours, Chaumont, Altkies, Bains, Vichy, Dinard and the surrounding localities were made, the total would be nearly $5,000,000.

MOTORIST SENTENCED

Thirty days sentence in Allen-co jail and a fine of $25 was levied Saturday by Judge Nell R. Poling in criminal court against H. S. Wiggins, Wabash, Ind., who pleaded guilty to driving an automobile while intoxicated.

DUMP ON FIRE

A two days' smouldering fire at the city dump on S. Pierce-st. broke thru early Saturday morning and for a time endangered a barn located nearby. Fire Chief Mark watched for two hours, from 2 a. m. until 4 a. m. until the fire died out.

MRS. JACKSON DEAD

Mrs. Mary Elta Jackson, 45, wife of Elta Jackson, of 972 W. North-st., died early Saturday morning at St. Rita's hospital following a prostration. She was born in Spencerville in 1878. Surviving besides the husband are two children. Funeral arrangements have not been completed. Burial will be in Spencerville.

"Yes" And "No;" That's Interview With Ex-Kaiser

DOORN. — (United Press).—The ex-Kaiser holds the record for short interviews.

Wilhelm has sworn he will not talk any more to newspaper men for the rest of his life. He even refused to see the Countess Platen, who, after a trip to the Ruhr, had come to Doorn and wanted to report to the Kaiser on the conditions of the population under the French occupation.

Although the Countess was highly recommended to him, the Kaiser declined to receive her, because he was afraid that something he might say would later appear in the papers.

Recently, however, the ex-Kaiser was compelled to speak by a woman correspondent of a British paper. While Wilhelm was walking along the main street of Doorn, in company of a German friend, she addressed him in the street.

"Are you the Kaiser?"

"Yes," was the answer.

"Would your majesty give me his ideas on the present political situation?"

"No," and therewith Wilhelm turned on his heels, resuming the conversation with his friend.

Every day in every way, ex-Kaiser Wilhelm is getting to look more and more like the late Edward VII. of England.

Edward VII. and his mother Queen Victoria—the Kaiser's grandmother—both had hanging cheeks and sagging puffs under the eyes. These British family features are becoming very pronounced on the Kaiser's face as he grows older.

The likeness to Edward is particularly striking since Wilhelm has trimmed his beard the same way his uncle did. These facial resemblances are developing, despite the fact that there hardly was a man on earth whom the Kaiser hated more bitterly than he did Edward.

LABOR PLANNING SMITH BOOM

Will Give New York Governor Boost at Convention

WASHINGTON.—(United Press).—Gov. Al Smith of New York will be given a great boost for the presidency by his friends among organized labor when the American Federation of Labor convention meets in Portland, Ore., in October, according to well laid plans.

Some of Smith's enthusiastic friends are preparing to create a demonstration for him in the convention. This, report has it, is to be staged during a discussion of labor's political activities in the 1924 campaign.

At the last A. F. of L. convention in Cincinnati Senator L. Pollette was given a sort of semi-official endorsement that did not bind organized labor, as such, or any individual member to get behind La Follette.

There is a strong feeling among both leaders and rank and file in the A. F. of L. that La Follette could not be elected, and that labor support for him might simply result in letting some one less friendly to the workers get into the presidency.

THINK SMITH HAS CHANCE

Al Smith, many labor leaders think, would have an excellent chance of election if nominated by the Democratic convention. They believe the Portland convention would be a good chance to see how the west reacts to Smith. They have heard that he would be beaten west of the Mississippi river. Their plan is to test sentiment for him out there.

Labor claims Smith's election as governor the last time was the direct result of the workers' activities. He is one of the men labor claims to have elected.

There will be no attempt, labor leaders say, to put the Portland convention formally on record as favoring any candidate for the presidency. The Smith demonstration will be entirely unofficial and will be simply a "trial balloon."

BUYS FARM

H. C. Ruppel, farmer, Sugar Creek-twp., was the purchaser of a 67-acre tract belonging to the Ellen Jones estate, sold at auction by E. T. Lipincott, administrator, Saturday. Consideration was $8,160. The farm is situated between Vaughnsville and Comer, in Sugar Creek-twp., lying partly in Allen-co and partly in Putnam-co.

THREE ARE NAMED AND THE FOURTH IS UNKNOWN

Six additional men were made defendants Saturday to the indictment obtained by the Lima City Street Railway Co., Monday restraining the operation of jitney busses on Lima streets.

A supplementary petition naming the six was filed in common pleas court at noon Saturday.

The six new defendants are J. W. Haruff, W. E. Cavades, Harry Borden, "John Doe," "Richard Roe" and a "Smiling Young man." The last three are unknown to the plaintiffs.

All six are accused of operating cars over the streets of Lima in competition with the street car either for hire, donation or free as the case may be.

They are charged with doing irreparable damage to the business of the Lima City Street Railway Co. by their operations.

CALLING CONSPIRATORS

The petition names them as actors of the conspiracy against the company and as confederates and aid in the striking carmen.

Copies of the injunction handed down by Judge Miller were placed in the hands of the sheriff for service on the defendants.

Deputies anticipate difficulty in rounding up the last three men, from the meagre description.

Many persons not concerned might be served as a smiling young man.

The six persons named, it is claimed, have taken the place of carmen under the original injunction, and have been hauling passengers. Their presence on the streets according to the petition, has been the means of many persons refusing to take passage on the regular cars.

Deputies say they will serve the first man driving a car, who shows his teeth, in the hope that he is the "Smiling man" wanted.

SAINTS ENLARGED TEMPLE

Mormons Build $100,000 Annex to Salt Lake Building

SALT LAKE CITY.—(Associated Press).—Better to accommodate the thousands of Latter Day Saints who desire to enter the famous Salt Lake temple, there to perform sacred rites, approximately $100,000 is being expended by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints to enlarge the outer buildings. Workmen have been busy for over a month and a few more weeks will see completion of the task.

In tunneling for new entrances to the temple, portions of the original foundation laid about three quarters of a century ago, were exposed. Inspection of the Foundation showed that the temple builders took precautions to make double arches of stone, the better to hold the weight of the top portion. Several prominent architects and builders have expressed amazement that such foresight was shown in the construction.

The new construction work is on the north and west sides of the temple. It is located within an enclosure to which few non-Mormons are admitted, and then only with the permission of the higher authorities of the church.

UNEARTH BURIED VILLAGE

Excavations in New Mexico Create Wide Interest

LOS ANGELES — (Associated Press) — Excavations of interest and importance to the world are being made at the Hawikuh prehistoric village site, about 50 miles from Gallup, N. M., by members of the Heys Foundation Museum of the American Indian, of New York, according to Capt. Thomas A. Joyce, archaeologist and vice-president of the Royal Anthropological Institute of Great Britain and Ireland, who made Los Angeles his headquarters preparatory to visiting excavation work at Santa Barbara and Santa Catalina Island, Calif.

"The chief present interest of the founder and director of the museum, George Heys," said Capt. Joyce, "is the Hendricks-Hodge expedition which has made a number of important discoveries at Hawikuh. Other archaeologists are conducting excavations at Kechipayan, a few miles from Hawikuh."

It is one of the richest archaeological fields on the American continent," said Capt. Joyce. "The work now going on there, the results of which never before have been published, will undoubtedly throw a new light on our information relative to the people who inhabited American prior to its discovery by Columbus."

"Altho the work of excavating the prehistoric ruins has just started, we have established without doubt that both Hawikuh and Kechipayan are two of the seven settlements known as 'The Seven Cities of Cibola,' seen by Vazquez de Corrales."

"Presence of iron on some of the top layers of the excavation signifies that the villages were ancient before the Spanish conquest. Other conclusive proof is the gradual development of pottery uncovered. In the lower levels, the pottery is plain and it graduates into some very excellent examples as higher levels are reached."

SHOW MANY TRIBES. "The excavations reveal that a succession of tribes inhabited this region in prehistoric days. They also show the gradual development of human beings who lived there from the age of the crude stone implements up to the more advanced eras."

"Articles unearthed bear a striking resemblance to the primitive utensils and other objects still in use by the Zuni Indians, on whose reservation Hawikuh and Kechipayan are situated."

"On the top layers we uncovered evidence of the natives' association with white men. These whites evidently erected a church and a monastery."

TWO ARE ARRESTED ON ROBBERY CHARGE

DAYTON — Steve Vergo of Dayton, and two men giving the names of George Miller and George Smith of Dayton, were under arrest here today charged with having robbed the paymaster's office of the Delco Co. of approximately $6,000 late yesterday afternoon.

Police say the men confessed and but $5,400 was recovered. According to the police the Detroit men confessed to having stolen an automobile in Detroit before coming to this city.

Mystery in Case of Mrs. Webb Not Yet Cleared

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — Mrs. Charles Webb, who died Tuesday night at the Westchester-Biltmore Country Club in Rye, N. Y., was not necessarily a victim of poisoning, as far as the autopsy performed late yesterday showed. It was stated, however, that the chemical analysis might prove that certain poisons, which were found in the body, had at least hastened, if not caused death.

Friends of the woman's husband charged that the suspicion of poisoning was the result of an old family feud which had lasted thru several generations. A cousin of Webb, Colonel Howard Thayer Kingsbury, who is a physician, stated that in his opinion the death was due to natural causes. He was with Mrs. Webb at the time of her death.

One circumstance which was regarded as odd by relatives of the dead woman was that she had suffered from an eye affection similar to that experienced by her mother, who died shortly before Mrs. Webb's marriage, which she opposed. Relatives who demanded that an investigation be made also declared that Mrs. Webb had made two wills shortly before her death and that she had refused to sign a third, had been drawn.

The result of the chemical analysis probably will not be known for several days.

STUDENTS FORBIDDEN POSSESSION OF LIQUOR

NEW HAVEN, CONN. — Yale students who take liquor into a university building will be expelled. President James Rowland Angell made this announcement at a reception to freshmen last night. He added:

Whatever you may think of the eighteenth amendment or of the moderate use of liquor this rule holds. 'The university will not permit dissipation. No man can come to any great success at Yale who is known to be a dissipated man.'"

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

I LIVE in a small town near Lima and we have taken the Lima News in our family many years. I read every night of the good advice you give people and I thought maybe you could help me solve my problem.

I have been married nearly 19 years and am 24 years old. My husband does not get along well together. He has told his side of the story to some friends of ours and now they make it plain to me that they don't care to have me come to their home. Do you think it fair of them to listen to him and make him welcome when they don't want me and won't listen to my story? How shall I treat them?

THE thing for these so-called friends of yours to do would be to discourage any bit of confidence from either you or your husband about your personal affairs and refuse to be drawn into your differences in any way.

The only thing for you to do is to accept the fact that you no longer are welcome in their home and do not force their friendship. Altho I know nothing of you and your husband's troubles, have you ever tried to look at the matter from the viewpoint of your friends? Perhaps you may decide, then, that you are wrong and your husband right.

Dear Miss Smart: I am a girl 15 years old. I have written some verses and poems that I would like to have published. Can you advise me where to send them?

YOUNG AUTHORRESS If you are perfectly sure you have suitable verses, send them to the editor of the magazine or newspaper to which they seem best suited. But why not wait a while before sending any of your work away? Why not consider the verse you are writing merely practice work? You are young yet and perhaps after you finish your schooling you will be able to do better work.

However, if you feel your works are unusually good, send them in to some editor. My idea is that it might prejudice an editor against your work to send him verses which are not up to the standard he uses.

Dear Miss Smart: Will you answer a few questions for me? How can I keep my piano keys from turning yellow? I want to have a Halloween party. What would be a few things we could do for amusement? What would be a nice lunch to serve?

Wash them in alcohol; never use water. Why not have a fortune teller? Have one of your older friends dress as an old witch. You could fix up her hut in a closet or in a corner of the room. Make things as gruesome as you can. It's always fun to "bob" for apples. Put apples in a big tub of water and then make your guests try to get them with their teeth; with, of course, their hands tied behind them. Why not have a prize for the best costume worn? Then, too, you can have contests and give silly little prizes.

Doughnuts, apples, pumpkin pie, peanuts and cider are usually served at Halloween time.

Dear Miss Smart: We are coming to you for advice. We are two girls, each 16 years of age. How many nights a week should girls our age be out? Our mothers say we are too young to go out at nights. How late should we stay out?

How is my writing? GREAT FRIENDS Friday and Saturday nights would be sufficient for you to be out; that is, with your parents' consent. As to the hour, 10 o'clock is late enough. Rather large, isn't it?

I'll send the recipes you ask for later.

SECOND AUTOPSY HELD IN GIRL'S DEATH PROBE

MILLVILLE, N. J. — As the result of the second autopsy performed yesterday upon the body of Emma Dickson, 15 year old high school girl, county authorities are again working on the theory that she was slain. Before the second autopsy, some investigators had announced it was their opinion that the girl had been killed by being struck by an automobile. Her body, with the skull crushed, was found near her home at Bricksboro last Saturday and was buried Sunday.

The body was exhumed by order of the county court. It was discovered at the second autopsy that one of the girl's arms had been dislocated at the wrist. After the first examination it had been announced that the arm had been broken in two places.

The girl's skull and viscera have been sent to Philadelphia for further examination.

Prosecutor Ward said that the authorities had no evidence and no immediate arrest might be expected.

MERRY GO ROUND

Who is Mary Philbin?

A few months from now you will laugh at any one who asks, "Who is Mary Philbin?" But I'll tell you now just who she is!

She was in an Elks' beauty contest in Chicago when I first saw her. I sent her direct to Universal City.

She was of such an ethereal beauty that I did not dare to let her appear in a stellar part and have the critics say, "She is beautiful, but she cannot act."

Besides this, I wanted to know if, in addition to beauty and intelligence, she had personality, that mysterious something that distinguishes the false from the real star.

So Mary Philbin has worked—worked hard—and waited. No doubt she has wondered at the long way she has had to travel to stardom—for Mary has proven herself an artist, with an artist's impulsive, imaginative temperament.

After three years—because of her beauty, intelligence and willingness to work and to learn—her chance came. Under Rupert Julian's direction she appears in the lead opposite Norman Kerry in "Merry Go Round."

And what is "Merry Go Round?"

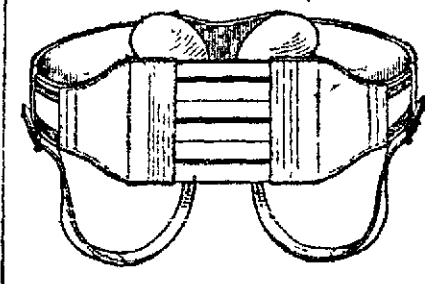

Just a love story, told in a new way, that Mary Philbin will make you remember as one of the greatest love stories of all time.

In the "Merry Go Round" you will smile and sigh, sympathize and love—and laugh—with the most appealing heroine you have ever seen in pictures, and you will suddenly realize that Mary Philbin, the coming star, has arrived.

Carl Laemmle.

ARE YOU RUPTURED?

We wish to announce the visit of the Collings Truss Expert at the Lima House, Lima, Ohio, Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 1 and 2, from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m., and evenings 7 to 9.

Back View of New Invention For Rupture

We want to demonstrate to you absolutely without a penny in advance, our new invention for holding difficult or aggravated cases of rupture, whether of inguinal or umbilical character. If you are ruptured you should be interested in our ability to fit you with a truss that will do its work properly and give you the greatest ease and comfort possible.

SCIENTIFIC AND PRACTICAL

This new Collings Truss is based on the most scientific principles for holding a rupture. It is not only representative of mechanical perfection but contains that super-power for holding a rupture without discomfort, and that makes for a complete recovery where this result is possible.

CONTAINS NO SPRINGS

There are no springs or metal parts used in this new truss other than the small necessary buckles; instead it is made of high-grade elastic web with soft pliable cloth, back made wider so to distribute the pressure over a broader surface. Prevents all cutting and chafing, and gives the necessary uplift to the pads.

IT HOLDS THE RUPTURE

It is easily, quickly and permanently adjusted so an even and uniform pressure can be constantly maintained at any desired tension. The patented sectional pads are adaptable and will fit any kind of rupture. As the cure progresses the pressure can be increased without a change of pads.

IT STAYS PUT

When placed in position, the truss stays put and does not slide or shift. Regardless of the position of the wearer's body; stooping, jumping or standing erect, the truss remains firm and set, and adjusts itself as the occasion demands.

COMFORTABLE DAY OR NIGHT

To do its maximum amount of good, a truss should be worn continuously day and night. Upon retiring many people remove their truss, with the result that the weakened muscular tissues relax and oftentimes allow the rupture to assume the form of the original protrusion. This new truss can be worn at all times.

FREE Demonstrations FOR TWO DAYS ONLY Monday and Tuesday, October 1 and 2

Every ruptured person should visit our representative and learn what genuine truss-comfort means. No charge for demonstration or information.

YOUTH

PLENTY of Americans still live in log cabins, in the lonesome remote districts. Traveling salesmen tell us that it's becoming quite common to glance out of a Pullman window and see one of those log cabins with a radio antenna, as in the accompanying pen-picture by Artist Satterfield.

A log cabin with a radio is about the last word in contrast. Which member of the family, living in the log cabin, has the radio? One guess is enough. It's the boy who has the radio, not his father.

And this is symbolic of civilization—the older generation solving the problem of obtaining a living, while youth does the bulk of the reaching out toward progress.

Along about middle age, most of us become set in our ways, inclined to stagnate. Curious, impulsive, dynamic youth keeps the wheel of progress turning. The earth belongs to youth.

UNDER GLASS

WOULD you like to have a farm with crops worth $20,000 an acre a year? That what is done by "glass farmers" who grow vegetables and flowers in greenhouses.

A census report shows 3800 acres devoted to glass farming, with a crop of 77 million dollars a year—about $20,000 an acre.

But that doesn't mean $20,000 profit, by any means. The glass farmer averages an enormous value of crop. He also has an exceptionally big cost of production. The census found that it keeps two or three men busy for each acre farmed under glass. Then there's the cost of building the greenhouse, supplying steam heat—and other items of intensive cultivation.

DESPITE all the "buts" and "howevers," there's something firing to the imagination in any kind of farming yielding $20,000 an acre a year.

It gives us a glimpse of the future—the possibilities that lie in highly specialized scientific farming.

Time will come when there'll not be an "out of season" for any article of food. That condition is practically existent now, due to glass farming and fast express transportation from warmer climates to districts where winter makes impossible the all-year-round cultivation of plant life.

Many of us can recall when the average family in the northern state never had fresh vegetables in wintertime. Even potatoes were stored in the fall in a bin down cellar.

THE Department of Agriculture restrains the enthusiasm of a would-be glass farmer by warning that "the quantity of coal used to maintain each acre of space enclosed to greenhouses at the required temperature, varies from 250 to 300 tons a season." Oh, well, guess we'll continue dreaming about chicken farming.

SNIPPING OFF THE CIPHERS

THE Russian government claims its financial condition is improving amazingly. It points with pride to figures showing that it is spending only a seventh more than it is collecting in taxes and other revenue.

We'd like to know how much of this "good showing" is due to lopping ciphers off the value of the ruble. Any business could make a good showing if free to snip off ciphers here and there in its financial statement. That's what government is—or should be—in the last analysis: A business organization.

BRYAN'S WEEKLY BIBLE TALK

Abraham, a Child of Faith

Text of Today's Bible Talk by Mr. Bryan
(Gen. 12:1-4; 22:15-18)

Now the Lord God had said unto Abram, Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and from thy father's house, unto a land that I shall show thee:

And I will make of thee a great nation and I will bless thee, and make thy name great; and thou shalt be a blessing:

And I will bless them that bless thee, and curse him that curseth thee: and in thee shall all families of the earth be blessed.

So Abram departed, as the Lord had spoken unto him; and Lot went with him: and Abram was seventy and five years old when he departed out of Haran.

And the angel of the Lord called unto Abraham out of heaven the second time.

And said, By myself have I sworn, saith the Lord, for because thou hast done this thing, and hast not withheld thy son, thine only son:

That in blessing I will bless thee, and in multiplying I will multiply thy seed as the stars of heaven, and as the sand which is upon the sea shore; and thy seed shall possess the gate of his enemies:

And in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed; because thou hast obeyed my voice.

BY WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN
The Bible talks for the quarter upon which we are entering will deal with missionary messages of the Bible. We begin with Abraham, who was called by Jehovah into a distant land to establish a race and a religion.

The language of the call is found in the first and second verses of the twelfth chapter of Genesis:

'Now the Lord had said unto Abram, Get thee out of this, thy country, and from thy kindred, and from thy father's house, unto a land that I will show thee:

'And I will make of thee a great nation, and I will bless thee, and make thy name great; and thou shalt be a blessing.'

But first let us touch briefly on two other lessons from Abraham's life. One has to do with Lot, the nephew of Abraham.

When the two found it impracticable to travel together because of quarrels between their herdsmen, Abraham very generously gave Lot his choice.

The latter "pitched his tent toward Sodom," a more inviting prospect than lay before the elder. Many since that time have "pitched their tents toward Sodom."

A moral could also be drawn from Abraham's efforts to save a wicked city. It showed the utter wickedness of the conditions in Sodom when not even ten righteous men could be found. It suggests also, the only way of saving a city.

Take away religion—the relation established between man and his Maker—and man gravitates toward evil and vice as surely as a material body falls to the earth.

Our cities today need the heaven of righteousness; the good people must be active if they would prevent the wrong thing that calls down the wrath of an offended God.

Abraham's father, Terah, had made a journey of over five hundred miles from Ur of the Chaldees toward Canaan. He stopped at Haran, where he died. His son Abram, afterwards known as Abraham, continued his journey toward the land of promise. His destination was not specifically pointed out; he was to go into the land which God would show him. This was the first test of his faith.

A UNIQUE MIGRATION
Haran was a place of considerable importance, described as one of the chief towns of Mesopotamia, situated at the junction of caravan routes leading to Nineveh, Babylon, and Damascus. Abram left this place, a land of idolatry, where, as in the land of Ur, worship was addressed to the Moon-god. He separated himself from his kindred and trusted in the guidance of God. He was to be the father of a great nation; his name was to be made great; he was to be blessed of the Almighty and to be a blessing.

There have been other migrations in history, but they have usually been in larger companies and for a different purpose. Take, for instance, the settlement of California; it drew thousands of pioneers across the desert, but they went in search of gold.

The precious yellow metal had been found upon the Pacific coast and this discovery was the signal for the rush of '49. The railroads carried thousands to the Missouri river and there they embarked upon a journey of fifteen hundred miles, over two mountain ranges and the deserts between.

It was a time of great hardship and trial; caravans of covered wagons hurried on from one watering place to another, lured by the stories of prospectors who became suddenly rich. The tables of the travelers were largely supplied with game killed by the way. Some went by the isthmus; in fact, so much traffic went by this route that the Panama railroad was built to furnish transportation.

The opening up and settlement of California were the incidental results. Now the agricultural products of that great state dwarf in value the gold that started the race to the coast.

THE PILGRIM'S JOURNEY
The landing of the Pilgrims at Plymouth Rock was made like the journey undertaken by Abraham. He "looked for a city which hath foundation, whose builder and maker is God." The Pilgrims crossed an ocean in search of a land in which they could worship God according to the dictates of their conscience. The impress made upon our history by the earnest, high-minded Christians who settled New England was due largely, if not wholly, to the high purpose that inspired them.

When I visited Havana in 1902, to witness the inauguration of the president of that new republic, one of the Cuban patriots called my attention to two large paintings that adorned a prominent room in the government buildings.

One represented the Pilgrims going into New England with the Bible and the plow; the other represented Cortez with an army searching for gold, the only cure, as the Spanish adventurers were wont to say, for a disease of the heart that afflicted their people.

My guide enjoyed the joke which the artist had displayed upon the authorities when he persuaded them to hang these two pictures together, one a rebuke to the motives of the Spaniards.

A GRUPELLING TEST
Abraham had a faith sufficient for the test; he traveled into the unknown land, relying upon the promise of God to justify his going. But he was to be subjected to a second test that was even more severe. His beloved wife, Sara, was childless. By a miracle wrought upon her, she brought forth a son after she was ninety years old. Thru this son the promise made to Abraham was to be fulfilled—he was to become the father of a great people.

Just when this precious son had reached the age when the father could feel that the promise was soon to be fulfilled, he was commanded to offer the boy up as a sacrifice. He immediately obeyed. Taking Isaac, he began the three days' journey to the place of sacrifice. The brief dialogue that took place between the father and the son is most touching:

"And Isaac spake unto Abraham his father, and said, 'My father: and he said, Here am I, my son. And he said, Behold the fire and the wood; but where is the lamb for a burnt offering?'

"And Abraham said, My son, God will provide himself a lamb for a burnt offering: so they went both of them together."

Many a sermon has been preached from this text: it lends itself to eloquent imagery. But, at the critical moment, the uplifted hand was restrained and a ram, waiting nearby, with its horns caught in the bushes, furnished the sacrifice. God provided a lamb and never was an act of worship completed with a happier heart.

WE HAVE OUR HARD TESTS
We think ourselves fortunate that we are not subjected to any such faith tests now, but we have our tests—some of them scarcely less trying. Parents innumerable have been called upon to give up their children to the cause of the kingdom, both sons and daughters—often an only child.

It is natural that a parent should look forward to the time when the child, nurtured in youth and trained in righteousness, will be a staff to the parents in their declining years. Air castles are built and comforting pictures drawn of the child's future. And then comes the call, not for the child's physical life but for the consecration of its life to work in distant lands.

The child is lost to the parents so far as companionship is concerned; the ship that bears the loved one to the dangers of some frontier of civilization is almost as desolate looking as an altar. It requires a real faith in both the child and the parent—possibly more in the parents. But they face the separation with boldness and substitute satisfaction in the loving work that is being done for the joy of companionship.

DEVOTION OF PARENTS
In a trip around the world it was our pleasure to meet many of missionaries who are carrying the gospel into dark places thruout the Orient by the devotion of parents who have given up their loved ones to a work in which their own hearts were enlisted and for which they had, sometimes unconsciously, trained their children. I have known some cases where the father had not reconciled himself to the choice made by the son; when, with tears in his voice, he confessed his helplessness when the son, responding to a call for missionary service, put aside alluring plans which the father had made for him.

Abraham could have had no conception of the ultimate result of his obedience to God's call. He did not even know the exact locality into which God was leading him—he walked "by faith, not by sight."

Much less could he visualize the children of his loins with their incalculable contribution to the world's welfare. His imagination could not follow them in their wanderings, their rebellions, their punishments and their repentances.

WALKING BY FAITH
He could not calculate his contribution to the religious progress of the world; his eyes could not behold the billions who, because of his unshakable devotion, are worshippers of one God, or the hundreds of millions who have followed the Saviour, sprung from a daughter of Abraham's race.

So the missionaries also walk by faith and not by sight. Some have toiled for years without a single convert and then they have been made happy by the turning of multitudes to Christ. The preacher, the medical missionary, and the Christian school teacher have traveled together, they are redeeming the world.

If our nation cannot boast that the sun never sets on its possessions, it has a prouder boast—the sun never goes down on one center of civilization, established by American Christians with American money, until it rises on another. Its outposts of philanthropy are scattered over the world; the sacrifices that Christian parents have made are justified by the accomplishments of their children. What work more worthy of the offspring of Christians?

CRUEL FATHERS
But Christian altars are not the only ones upon which sacrifices are offered. Many a father has been more cruel to his son than Abraham would have been to Isaac had Isaac been offered as a sacrifice. A ruined life may be even worse than death, and lives are constantly being offered by parents on the altars reared to false gods.

Money worshipping parents have laid their children on the altar of Mammon. Many children have been laid upon the altar of fashion. Still more have been sacrificed to the god of ease, and an innumerable host have been trained to worship the gods of chance, of passion and drink.

The bad example of a father or even of a mother, may be more deadly than a knife. The parent's duty is not fully performed when the life of the child is spared; it must be brought up in the "nurture and admonition of the Lord."

Worship should be taught as a duty until it becomes a pleasure.

SAFE IN HIS HANDS
We cannot see far ahead; we cannot treasure the consequences of a single act, but we know that we are safe when we are in the hands of the Heavenly Father and do His will.

"The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want."

"He maketh me to lie down in green pastures; He leadeth me beside the still waters."

"He restoreth my soul; He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake."

"Yea, tho I walk thru the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me."

"Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies; thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over."

"Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life; and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever."

MOSCOW HEAD OF BULGAR REVOLT

Discovery Made Thru Capture of Documents

LOCOMOTIVE USED AS DECOY

Machine Guns and Rifles Distributed to Peasants

SOBIA—(Associated Press)—Documents found on Communist prisoners taken in the capture of Ferdinandovo afford undeniable proof, says a government statement, that the rebellion was organized and executed with the active assistance of the Moscow Soviets.

A locomotive that fell into the hands of government troops at Berkowitz was adorned with large pictures of Lenin and Trotsky. The legend "Bulgarian state railways" had been erased and "Soviet Republic of Bulgaria" substituted for it.

The locomotive was used as a decoy to enlist the peasants under the Communist red flag, leaders announcing that it had been sent from Moscow to haul carloads of machine guns and rifles. The Agrarians were told that Sofia was in the hands of the Soviet regime and were informed that unless they joined the ranks of the Communists they would be shot.

Machine guns and rifles distributed to the rural populations under the Stamboulsky regime were shown to the peasants as evidence of Moscow's effective assistance.

The bodies of 209 Communists were found inside the Berkowitz lines after the place had been stormed by the government troops. Six hundred rebels were captured, the survivors fleeing toward the Roumanian frontier.

The Roumanian government has officially informed Sofia and also the frontier authorities that all Communists seeking refuge in that country will be turned back at the border. The nation adds that a division of troops has been ordered to the Bulgarian frontier to drive back the rebels.

The capture of Ferdinandovo by government forces yesterday, it is asserted, marked the complete collapse of the Communist movement.

GERMAN SITUATION

BERLIN—(Associated Press)—The military dictatorship of Dr. Gessler for the time being seems to have put fear into the hearts of extremists, both right and left, and as far as Germany outside of Bavaria is concerned, his powers are expected to keep the situation lighted for the present.

Many where food rioting and crop pilfering have been chronic for a month, presents the only immediate cause of apprehension, especially as the present government of that state has "strong leanings to the left. It is already engaged in a bitter feud with the minister of defense and threatens insubordination to the discipline of the United Socialist party.

The job of salvaging financially the economic wreckage in the Ruhr is one of such heinous dimensions that Chancellor Stresemann is hardly in a position to tackle it before the Rhineland and Ruhr conflict has been entirely straightened out through formal negotiations with the entente.

"All depends on whether Premier Poincare is bent on continuing his devastating tactics now that we have met the pre condition for discussions by recalling the order for passive resistance," said an official of the foreign office.

Dr. Fuch, minister of the occupied area, is valiantly striving to put a semblance of order into the chaos in the occupied regions, although reports from the mining sectors afford a scant basis for the hope that substantial progress is being made in reconciling the restive to the new situation.

Another phase of the state of affairs in the Ruhr and the Rhineland is the insistence with which the separatist movement projects itself into the prevailing confusion.

PARTING OF WAYS OF SCHOOLS THREATENED

CLEVELAND—A parting of the ways between the high schools of Ohio's big cities and those of the small town and country districts is threatened.

That's the significance of a visit to Cleveland this week by an acting faculty manager, Fred Seibert of Scott High School, Toledo, to confer with Floyd Rowe, the new director of physical welfare for Cleveland's public schools, and faculty manager Gordon Frost, of East Tech, who represented the 12 schools of Cleveland's senate at the recent meeting of the Ohio State High School association at Columbus.

Seibert proposes that Cleveland and Toledo join hands in a fight to secure independence for the high schools of "big cities which, he claims, are now dominated in the Ohio State High School Association by the votes of the small town and country schools.

Three suggestions are made by Seibert on behalf of the Toledo schools and he says that they are willing to join hands with Cleveland schools in any other plan if Cleveland has a better one to suggest.

COUNTY AWARDS 2 CONTRACTS

Concrete Bridges to be Built Over Ottawa River

Contracts for two reinforced concrete bridges over the Ottawa river were let Saturday to the Roberts Supply Co., on alternate bids submitted to the county commissioners Thursday noon.

The bid on E. High-st is $72,201, and the bid for construction of Bellefontaine-av bridge is $77,738.

Both bridges are to be constructed of reinforced concrete with a concrete rail and specially reinforced arches to give support.

Bellefontaine-av bridge is a heavier type than the High-st structure on account of extra strength needed to carry street railway and interurban cars.

A previous contract let to the Roberts Supply Co., was nullified by court order, because of insufficient advertisement.

Owing to the lateness of the season, neither bridge can be built this year. All preliminary work possible will be put in, however, commissioners were promised so as to complete the structures early in the spring.

The county is paying the entire cost of building the bridges, with money derived from a bond issue

M'GRAW'S CREW FASTENS 1923 BUNTING TO FLAGSTAFF

Central High Gridders Are Primed For Big Battle With Bucyrus On College Field

Many Scrimmages Among Grid Teams Mark Opening Of Preliminary Season

(BY HENRY L. FARRELL)
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

NEW YORK — Interesting and unusual games feature the 1923 football schedule which gets its general introduction for the season Saturday all over the country.

No game on the regular schedule promises to be of more national interest than the post-season contest announced between the Navy eleven and the winner of the Pacific coast championship to be played at Pasadena on New Year's day.

In arranging this game the California committee was fortunate in getting a team to represent the east that will be generally accepted here as a representative team. The Navy will provide an eleven that will not only be to the color and spectacle of the classic but will represent the best football of the east.

The midshipmen, although they lost to the West Point cadets last fall, had a fine team, as they should have a powerful one this year. It is possible with their schedule, to establish a claim as good as that of any other eastern team for the championship of this section.

The Navy plays Penn State, Princeton, Colgate, the Army and St. Xavier from the middle west. Princeton and the Army both play Notre Dame and that will give a line on the Navy's class against middle western football. Colgate plays Ohio State and that game will give some comparison between the east and the western conference. The Army plays Yale and the Navy's game with the Army will give a line of comparison on the "big three" as well as the Princeton game. The Army also plays four southern teams.

The Navy eleven will take to the coast also a team that is more national in its scope than it is eastern as the squad of midshipmen includes representatives of practically every state in the union.

Saturday's games all over the country are more or less of the work out variety. The "big three" and most of the western conference eleven will not be in action, owing to rules restricting the number of games they can play during the season.

The south, which is making a most extensive invasion of foreign territory this season, sends Tennessee to West Point to play the cadets in the first inter-sectional game of the season.

In the east Pennsylvania opens the season with Franklin and Marshall; Pittsburgh plays Bucknell; Penn State meets Lebanon Valley; Washington and Jefferson goes against Bethany and the Navy plays William and Mary.

In the middle west Iowa has an interesting game with the Oklahoma Aggies; Chicago plays the Michigan Aggies and Notre Dame starts the season with Kalamazoo.

Georgia Tech gets under way with

HONORS EVEN

Cy Williams, of the Philadelphia Athletics, led home runs in the National League last season with 38. He was also the only player to hit a home run in each of the first nine innings of a game.

Oglethorpe and California plays St. Mary's.

FOOTBALL GETS UNDER WAY

CHICAGO — (By Associated Press)—Football gets under way in the middle west today when some of the major colleges and universities and their practice sessions and take the field against opponents for the first time this year.

Chicago, Iowa and Northwestern of the Big Ten and Notre Dame, which later will engage in two inter-sectional contests, will test their strength in games each is expected to win.

Chicago will meet the Michigan Aggies here, Iowa, which tied last year with Michigan for western conference honors, will open with the Oklahoma Aggies at Iowa City. North Dakota will meet Kalamazoo at South Bend and Northwestern will go into action against Knox.

ATLANTA, Ga.—From Maryland to the Mississippi river's outlet, gladiators of the Southern gridiron will hold forth today in twenty-one games. The University of Tennessee will battle the Army in the first inter-sectional clash of the season.

The schedule calls for all the big southern squads, with the exception of the University of Florida and Vanderbilt, to show what they have developed during the short training period.

In Maryland, William and Mary will meet the Navy team at Annapolis. Inasmuch as the middies are ranked with the big eastern teams this conflict also is regarded as somewhat inter-sectional.

Champ Or Firpo Not "One Punch" Hitters

By JOE WILLIAMS

CLEVELAND—One-punch flashers in the garden of beautiful flowers are about as scarce as peace celebrations in the Balkans.

Considering the recent disturbance between Messrs. Dempsey and Firpo, Dempsey was rated as the greatest hitter the heavyweight division had known in years. Firpo, with his tremendous power and unusual ferocity, was said to be even more powerful puncher than the American.

"Firpo is a novice, unskilled and none too crafty, but if he ever hits Dempsey with that right hand it will be all over." So the experts sang.

You recall what happened. Firpo, the great smasher, sent Firpo floundering in the ring seven times in the first round, but he didn't knock him there. What's more he didn't knock the fight out of him. Firpo on the contrary, regained his feet and knocked Dempsey out of the ring. Knocked him sailing with the very right hand the experts said, carried sudden death.

Dempsey was stilled enough to put Firpo away, but he wasn't skilled enough to put him away with a punch. His blows carried power but not destruction. By a series of frenzied, furious punches he gradually wore his man to tatters. The genius of the one-punch flasher, famed for so many, but possessed by so few, was lacking in the performance.

Nor did Firpo, the primitive savage, show that he had the knack of the one-punch finisher. True, he must have hit Dempsey a staggering punch to send him reeling out of the ring, but Dempsey was not badly hurt. He managed to get back into the ring before the count of ten. Firpo continued to pound him. A dozen times without a return after the champion got back from his nocturnal flight thru the clouds, but he couldn't put him out. In the light of these circumstances the fallen idol of the Pampas hardly stands out as a hitter of enormous ability. As a matter of fact the ring has known but few one-punch finishers. Old Bob Fitzsimmons was a one-punch artist. The freckled Cornishman usually could call the round in which he would stop his foe. Firpo stopped Jim Corbett at Caracas

HUBBARD

It would never, never do to start the football season without printing pictures of captain of the Yale, Harvard and Princeton football squads. The world's first progressive sporting editor did this and the sacred tradition has been conscientiously observed ever since. No ardent follower of football will be persuaded that the season is actually under way until he jacks up his favorite sporting sheet and goes the fine old friendly art lines. "Leaders of the Big Three." We present them herewith: Messrs. Snively of Princeton, Hubbard of Harvard, and Mallery of Yale. Snively and Hubbard are ranking guards, two of the best in the game. Mallery is a fullback, a great one, and on the defensive, the greatest football has ever known in years.

Red and Green Ready For Bucyrus

Central HI warriors are lying on their arms, waiting with all the confidence characteristic of brave men for the victory which is believed will perch on the banner of the Red and Green after the grid struggle is over; after they have scrimmaged with the eleven from Bucyrus Saturday afternoon. This is the beginning of the season, all over the country; the preliminary scrimmages are looked forward to as a feeler in playing strength. It is the same with Central HI as it is with the rest of the teams all over the country.

Coach Thibault has the Red and Green squad primed to the minute, as much so as is humanly possible so early in the season. There is a strong point to be learned in this game with Bucyrus; it will bring out the exact playing strength of the Central HI warriors it will demonstrate their ability in offense and defense and this is valuable information to work on whether the squad wins or loses in the game at College field Saturday afternoon.

There is a large contingent coming with the Bucyrus team, to help jazz for their representatives in the struggle. There is also a strong feeling among many adherents of the Red and Green in Lima, with the consequence that there will be a large crowd present. Football crowds are always noisy; always keyed up to a high pitch of excitement and this game will be no different from any of the rest of them.

The lineup for Central HI will be: Poling, r. e. Stanger, l. t.; and other Herbster, Weaver or Mitchell at r. g.; Blatter, l. g.; Lobnitz, l. t. e.; O'Donel, l. e. Taylor, q. b.; Bayh, f. b.; Cohn, Mitchell, Van Hoin, Ebling or Hagler at h. b.

In Squared Circle

AURORA, Ill.—(By United Press)—Jack Renault of Canada, knocked out Joe Downey, Columbus, Ohio, heavyweight in the third round of a scheduled ten round bout here last night. A right hand punch to the chin put Downey out for nearly five minutes.

The Canadian had the best of the fighting in the first round and the second was even. In the preliminaries, Marine Renier, Great Falls, Mont., knocked out Joe Baker, St. Louis, in the second round.

NEW YORK—(By Associated Press)—Joe Williams won decision over Hugh Dwyer of Australia in 10 round bout. Babe Herman of California and Mickey Travers of New Haven, fought 10 rounds to a draw.

GRIMM A WHOLE CIRCUS

Charley Grimm the Nick At-rock of the National League, captain of the Pittsburgh Pirates, will give baseball fans their money's worth Wednesday at the exhibition game with the New York Yankees.

Besides being the best first sacker in the league, Grimm is one of the greatest comedians the National League has ever produced. He is a clown on the ball field, a bushel of fun while his two weaknesses are heavy hitting and acting funny.

Gene Sarazan Meets Hagan Saturday

PELHAM COUNTRY CLUB, PELHAM, N. Y.—(United Press)—Gene Sarazan and Walter Hagan will meet here today for the professional golf championship of America.

Maintaining the expected margin of superiority over the field of 64 which started after the title last Monday, Sarazan and Hagan came thru easily and found their way into the final rounds.

Sarazan survived the semi-final round by winning from Bobby Cruikshank, runner up for the national open championship at seven and five, while Hagan had a cinch in beating George McLean at 12 and 11.

Hagan and Sarazan are both in fine fettle and sentiment among the critics is divided. Both have played fine golf all week, although the demands were a little heavier on Sarazan, who had to get by Alex Campbell, Jim Barthes and Bobby Cruikshank, while Hagan's most serious opponents were Fred McLeod and George McLean.

Frank Chance Will Retire From Reds

BOSTON, Mass.—Frank Chance will retire as the manager of the Boston Red Sox at the end of the season, according to an announcement last night by Robert Quinn, president of the club.

Two baseball men are under consideration as his successor, Quinn said, but the club is not prepared to give any more details.

It is understood that Lee Fohl, former manager of the Cleveland Indians, and the St. Louis Browns can have the job if he wants it.

Chance, after having retired as the manager of the Chicago Cubs, came back to baseball last year as the pilot of the Red Sox, under a one-year contract. Friends of the "peerless leader" said in mid-season that he was discouraged with his job and felt that he could not accomplish anything with the material he had.

This is What the Dickey Bird Says:

Down at Wapakoneta there is an unrecurrent excitement, all occasioned thru the coming baseball game to be played against the Indians of Lima, Sunday afternoon. It is confidently believed that this Wapak team will make a runaway game of the affair, because the Wapak management have succeeded in getting together a whole bunch of minor league players, which in their opinion are sufficient, very strong to literally wipe up the fallen leaves on Murphy-st grounds with the locals.

In the meantime spies from general headquarters at Lima, have given out exact information to Chief Halloran, and like a shrewd general, he has the situation well in hand. Watches are timed exactly for the signal gun will be fired at exactly 2:45 p. m. Sunday to go over the top.

While the engagement is confidently expected to result in a victory for the locals, there is a tremor of suppressed excitement. The worst may result, but the bomb throwers and the heavy artillery are sticking out their chests confident of victory. It is certain that the result will be joy to the hearts of Wapak fans and misery to hundreds of Limaites, according to Wapak's way of reckoning. There is a degree of sanguinity yet remaining in the breasts of brave women and fair men, thruout the whole Halloran army. Will victory shriek or will hope bid the world farewell, when all shall have been said and done.

It's just a base ball game; that's all, but it's bound to be a hummer, no matter who wins.

Cast For World's Series Definitely and Finally Settled As Giants Win

(BY HENRY L. FARRELL)
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

NEW YORK — With the victory of the New York Giant over the Brooklyn Robins in the game that decided the National League pennant the cast for the world's series was definitely and finally set.

The Giants and the Yanks will do it again for the third time in succession, something that has never happened before.

Not only have two teams from the same city failed to win the pennants so many times in a row before, but no two clubs from any section have ever furnished the world's series as many times in succession.

In winning the National League pennant the Giants made another record that will stand for a long time. They completed a string of 237 games in possession of first place. On July 23, of last year the New Yorkers nosed the St. Louis Cardinals out of the top place and they have held that position ever since.

John McGraw added to his glory in winning the pennant again. He has piloted nine teams to the league championship since he took hold of the Giants in 1902 and he has a chance this year to do what no other manager has ever accomplished if he wins a world's championship three years' running.

Both the Giants and Yanks have nothing to do now but get ready for the world's series. The arrangements are completed. The series will open Wednesday afternoon, October 10 in the Yankee stadium and the games will alternate between the stadium and the Polo Grounds, until one team has taken four games.

The Yanks are ruling the favorites in the betting but practically no big money has been covered. Since the Giants have clinched the pennant the betting will no doubt become brisk.

Those who are backing the Yanks believe that the low averages in favor of the American League champions, they feel that Babe Ruth will be a tremendous factor in this series and that the Yankee pitching staff is better than it was last year when it was supposed to be pretty good.

After fooling around in more or less of a slump, the Yankees are hitting again. They made an American League record yesterday when they beat the Boston Red Sox 24 to 4 and made 30 hits for a total of 44 bases.

Bad luck is hanging close to the heels of the Yanks, however. Bob Meusel has been banged twice in two days. Wally Pipp is out of the game with a bad ankle and Mike McNally is also hurt.

The Yanks, it is remembered, are none too well fortified in reserve strength to stand injuries. The Giants are still in shape and McGraw can be counted upon to save them. The pitchers are coming around and from the form shown by Watson and Nehf, McGraw will have at least two good hurriers.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

NEW YORK — Well, that's over. The Giants yesterday made sure of the National League pennant and the entire world's series again will be played in New York this year. The McGraw men put on the final touches by defeating Brooklyn 3 to 0. This year's flag is the third the Giants have hung out in succession and the ninth they have had altogether.

The Yankees ran round the bases so fast and so often that they tired themselves all out, scoring 24 runs to 4 for Boston. Babe Ruth, got back into his hard hitting habit, and pounded out five hits, including a homer, his thirty-eighth, and a pair of doubles.

The Tigers moved a notch nearer to second place in the American League by defeating the Indians, 17 to 8. The Braves took the second straight game from the Phillies 11 to 7. Cy Williams pounded out his 38th homer of the season, keeping abreast of the Babe.

The St. Louis Browns took the opening game of the series from the Chicago White Sox, 3 to 2. Eddie Collins stole his 45th base of the season. The Cubs made it two straight from the Pittsburgh Pirates, taking yesterday's game, 2 to 1.

Papyrus Arrives
NEW YORK—Papyrus is here. The Derby winner, come to race an American horse, probably Zev, arrived last night from England on the Aquitania. The English champion which will run in the international race for $100,000 at Belmont Park on October 20, was taken to his stable near the track Friday.

Basil Jervis, the Derby winner's trainer, said that his charge was in perfect condition despite the last week, and Papyrus looked it. He seemed greatly relieved when the ship was docked and all motion ceased.

Latonia Opens Saturday
CINCINNATI — Latonia today opened its fourth fall season of thoroughbred horse racing with a program featured by the Covington handicap for three year olds and upward at a mile and a sixteenth. It is a $5,000 added event and serves as a test for the $50,000 Kentucky Special to be run a week later. Sixteen of the best thoroughbreds in the west were named as starters.

As a supplementary feature feature, the Cincinnati Automobile Club handicap, at six furlongs was offered. An event half dozen prominent sprinters accepted the issue in this event. Five claiming races in which limit fields were entered completed the opening day's program.

It was said that nearly twelve hundred horses were stabled at the Latonia track.

Nine Good Ones to Start
HAYRE DE GRACE Md.—Nine of the best horses in training here are entered in the $10,000 Havre de Grace handicap, at a mile and an eighth, for three year olds and upwards, feature the program today, the last of this meet. The track is fast and in excellent condition.

Enchantment, appears to be the favorite, with Cherrito Pio, Exodus and Madam, also rated in the running. Dunlin, Blazes, Vigil, Ten Minutes and Big Heart complete the entry list.

WILL AID JAPAN IN REBUILDING

Important Americans Prepare to Leave for Orient

OTTO INDUSTRY HARD HIT

Half Million Spindles Destroyed in Earthquake

(BY B. C. FORBES)

NEW YORK (Special) — Guy Trapp, chairman, and Loyal A. Trapp, President of the Westinghouse International Co. are going to Japan in response to urgent cables from important Japanese interests. Other large American concerns making extensive ramifications in the Orient are also arranging to send executives to expedite the reconstruction activities.

These two Westinghouse heads will leave New York next Thursday, October 10, on the "Shanghai" and will visit Shanghai, Hongkong, Peking and the Philippines in course of their journey. Westinghouse has been very prominently identified with Japan's electrical development and both resident E. M. Herr and Mr. Osborn were not long ago decorated by the Mikado with the Order of the Rising Sun.

Before the earthquake, Japan was engaged in developing a national electrical super-power system as a broad program of railroad electrification. The earthquake destroyed a large amount of the installed equipment and also certain electrical manufacturing plants. As a result, Japan urgently needs electrical apparatus.

The enterprising Japanese have taken advantage of this electrical development to have quite a number of their students trained in electrical engineering and manufacturing.

Store and Webster, who have been conducting an important construction operation on the Show River, had had one of their important men the spot for some time. He was a victim of the recent disaster.

J. R. Lovelace, vice President of General Electric Co. had planned to visit Japan before the disaster occurred. He will be on the spot to cooperate in rebuilding the destroyed cities.

Robert Dollar, head of the Dollar and the vast Dollar Lumber interests is planning to leave for the Orient where he is as much at home as he is on the Pacific Coast in New York.

The International Western Electric Co. had Vice President P. K. Conant in Japan when the catastrophe fell. His services are, therefore, available to the Japanese. A. G. Ward, a director of the Nippon Electric Company, associated with Western Electric, whose headquarters are in Tokyo, is on a visit to the United States, but he is hastening back to Japan.

The Standard Oil people have found it necessary to send out one from this country, as they maintain a large permanent organization in Japan.

The United States Steel Corporation also has resident representatives in the principal Japanese cities.

A great deal of the Japanese business done with this country is, however, placed by the half dozen or so important Japanese concerns international scope. Some of these houses such as Mitsui and Co. have been in business for generations and have attained colossal magnitude. In Japan one generation follows another doing business under the same family name.

The destruction of property turns out to have been much less than it appeared. Our department of estimates the property damage at one billion dollars.

When this amount, equal to $13 per person in Japan, brings down per capita debt up to only $100, our own is $211, and Great Britain is $732.

It now develops that Japan's cotton industry suffered worse than its silk industry. Some half million tons of spindles, equal to about one-third of the country's total, have been entirely destroyed. This will have a full time operation for the industry still existing. The silk industry has not been seriously interfered with.

American industries which will be stimulated by Japanese demands include the iron and steel industry, the lumber industry, the electrical industry and some other industries identified with construction.

It is authoritatively figured that there will need about thirty million tons of lumber from the United States. Already this has had a stimulating effect on our lumber industry and has steadied prices, which had begun to weaken a little.

Occasionally, America's magnificent abundance of Japan's needs in new building beneficial consequences. (Copyright, 1923)

RAILS AND OILS HOLD FIRM

Irregular Recovery Follows Earlier General Setback

Speculators for the decline succeeded in bringing about another sharp reaction in today's market but an irregular recovery took place before the close. Motor and motor accessory shares were hammered down one to three points and the tobacco fell back on profit-taking. The rails, oils, Baldwin and U. S. Steel held relatively firm. Several weak spots were uncovered among the specialties. Burns Brothers A., dropping to a new low price for the year. Studebaker and American Woolen also touched new lows although the latter made up its loss and moved to higher ground before the close. Corn Products also rallied strongly. The closing was irregular. Sales approximated 400,000 shares.

WHEAT DECLINES TWO CENTS

Profit-taking Chief Factor in Downward Move

MARKET WEAK AT CLOSE

Corn Also Registers Loss, With Unsettled Finish

CHICAGO — (Associated Press) — Profit-taking sales on the part of holders gave all cereals a downward tendency in price today during the early dealings. Wheat was depressed also by the fact that the Liverpool market was easier. On declines, however, buying increased and selling became less free. Opening prices which ranged from 1-8 to 1-10 were followed by a little further setback and then something of a rally.

Wet weather west helped to check downturns in the value of corn and oats. After opening unchanged to 1-2 lower, December 72 1/2-73, the corn market underwent a general sag.

Oats started at 1-4 off to 1-8c per bushel, December 42 1/2 to 42 3/4. Later all the months showed some loss.

Provisions held steady in the absence of any aggressive selling. The wheat close was weak, 1-10 to 1-10 1/2 net lower December 1-10 1/2 to 1-10 3/4 and May 1-10 1/2 to 1-10 3/4.

The corn was unsettled, 3-4 to 7-8 to 2-3-4c net lower, December 71 7-8 to 72 1-8.

PRODUCE REVIEW

(By Swift & Co.)

The butter market on 30 score Standards at Chicago was reported easier, with sales favoring buyers. Indications point to larger fall and winter market demand from retailers provided prices do not prove too high for consuming trade.

White receipts of eggs have been heavier lower prices have stimulated the demand and the large excess that had accumulated is gradually being disposed of, although stocks in the hands of distributors show quite an excess over the same time a year ago. There has been no particular change during the week until today, due to increasing demand when the market advanced one cent a dozen.

New arrivals of eggs show quite a sprinkling of held and stale stock, which reduces value. Fine fresh eggs will command a premium.

Central Wyoming still in the grip of storms that have occurred intermittently for three days. Floods have caused damage that cannot yet be estimated. Both the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy and the Chicago and Northwestern railroads suffered great losses due to wrecked bridges and roadbeds, with many miles of track gone completely.

Much of the Salt Creek oil field, 45 miles from Casper, is reported under water. Pipe lines have broken and a flood of crude oil is adding to the damage.

Trains are being held up in some sections and in many districts travel by automobile is impossible. Newspaper men who left Denver Thursday morning in automobiles for the scene of the Cole creek wreck, still are 100 miles from the spot where the accident occurred.

WRECK VICTIMS IN WATERY TOMBS

Persons living near Salt Creek, in the western part of Lincoln, Neb., were forced to flee to higher ground when that creek which at this time of the year normally is dry, left its banks. Prisoners at the state penitentiary were used to build dams around the prison power plant.

In Omaha, the rainfall approximated that of a cloudburst. Several trains out of Omaha for Kansas City and Chicago, remained here because railroad officials feared that many of the bridges might give way.

Chicago, Burlington and Quincy passenger train number 22 left Council Bluffs at its usual time but was forced back at South Omaha when it was found that the tracks were covered with water.

Water early today was running from three to six feet deep in the business section of Council Bluffs and buildings were coated with a foot of mud. All traffic between Omaha and Council Bluffs has been suspended and the gas company in the latter place is unable to supply gas because the engine room of its plant was flooded.

ing. Her brother-in-law, Ralph Ward, was the first to bring the tidings to her.

"Thank God," she murmured, and sank into Ralph's arms.

The trial was the climax of a long series of events in connection with the killing. Peters' body was found and there was scarcely a paragraph's mention of the incident in the newspapers.

A few days later the body was identified. He was a "nobody" and that incident also virtually escaped notice.

Then a few days later Ward's attorney came forward with a statement that their client had killed Peters in self-defense as the result of a blackmail plot against the wealthy baker's son.

The case leaped into prominence. Ward was indicted. The first indictment was dismissed, then Governor Smith called a special grand jury which again returned an indictment.

In all these proceedings the blackmail secret never was bared. It was not even bared at the trial, and Ward was not placed on the stand.

FATHER RETURNS

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — When informed that his son, Walter S. Ward, had been acquitted of the charge of murdering Clarence M. Peters, George S. Ward, the wealthy Brooklyn baker, came into New York state for the first time in months. It was learned today.

Ward, Sr., had not been within the jurisdiction of a New York court since a reinvestigation of the murder charges was begun several months ago, as it was well known that the state desired to subpoena him. He was awaiting a jury's verdict in Newark, N. J., and when it was communicated to him he crossed the Hudson and attended a reunion of the family held last night at the Manhattan residence of another son, Ralph D. Ward.

MARSHALL FIELD & CO. IN THEIR WEEKLY REVIEW

Marshfield Field & Co. in their weekly review of the wholesale dry goods trade say:

Current wholesale distribution of dry goods was slightly less than last week, but exceeded that of a year ago during the corresponding period. Road sales were greater volume than a week ago. Sales for immediate delivery still show a large increase over the 1922 total for the same period. Spring trade generally has been lower slightly to meet the conditions prevailing in the selling markets.

Reporters generally estimate a large crop to be marketed during the next few months.

Even marketing is suggested, as poultry plants are now generally so fixed that they have sufficient help to take care of the poultry as it is offered unless there are great fluctuations in the movement.
